WHAT IT COSTS TO BUILD SANATORIUM FOR TUBERCULOSIS CASES

BY ONE OF THE WOMEN

Four miles of concrete road would build a sanatorium of 50 beds to care for tuberculosis patients of Rock county, according to estimates prepared by the building committee of the county board, working on the plans and specifications: $103,500 is the estimated cost, with another mile of expense or $25,000 to $30,000 for equipment. The plan approved by the building committee is the same as the sanatorium at La Crosse with a three story administration building and two wings each of two stories, one for men and one for women. Both, while having large windows so they could practically be used as open porches, yet have the advantage of warm dressing rooms, corridors and bath rooms, necessary for invalids. The cottage plan is not practicable in this climate, authorities say, while it is useful and valuable in warmer countries, and in sheltered valleys of Colorado where there is little snow. Patients would be exposed to winter weather while going to meals, and could not be cared for in detached cottages without great expense in the way of heating apparatus, and much extra salary for nurses. On the other hand, the cost of the diet and treatment of a disease on cases in a ward, when it would be extremely difficult to look after the same in winter when housed in scattered cottages about the grounds. Several records of people dying of hemorrhage alone in these isolated cottages have been noted in the state, where nurses could not give constant attention and the patient died before the nurse could arrive.

The plan for the Rock county sanatorium as approved by the building committee provides for reception rooms, superintendent's room, dining rooms and sun parlors on the main floor, and wards for 50 beds on the two floors of the wings. The help are to be housed on the third floor of the administration building and the whole capacity of the building could be doubled when needed by the addition of two more wings one on each side of the main building. There were 22 deaths in Rock county in 1929 from tuberculosis and the death rate is rising steadily each year. This in spite of the fact that it is one of the richest counties in the state and one having many large towns and villages. Fifteen cents a thousand or just the price of an ice cream sundae is the estimated tax necessary to build the sanatorium for Rock county.

COMMISSION RULING HAS NO EFFECT HERE

The memorandum issued recently by the industrial commission regarding apprentices, renewing of contracts and approving of indentures would have no effect here only in event of a bakers' strike. As only bakers' apprentices are now attending vocational school, according to Supt. J. M. Dorrans. The commission said new indentures could not be approved, nor contracts let or recalled during a strike period. The commission will also see that all boys apprenticed before a strike, live up to their contracts. This action was taken because of the printers' strike recently in Milwaukee, when a question arose as to the contracting of apprentices.

JANESVILLE FIGHT ON ASSESSMENT

Wisconsin Tax Commission to Open Hearing Here Thursday.

Janesville's fight for a square deal on state and county taxes will get full attention of the state tax commission at a hearing opening Thursday at the court house here, with the chief argument expected to center around the relative values of Janesville and Deloit industrial plants.

If Janesville should win its case, and Mayor T. E. Welsh and others believe it will, it would mean a saving of thousands of dollars to the city in years to come in that the two cities would have practically the same assessment in the equalization. Under the conditions now in effect Janesville is $5,000,000 less than Janesville.

City Lost $18,000.

When the supervisors refused Assessor E. A. Taylor's equalization figures and accepted local assessors' estimates, they made Janesville pay to make up the difference in state and county taxes, and as a result opened the avenue for a general tax protest of the county.

Estimates of experts on the true values of the big plants of both Janesville and Deloit will play a big part in the hearing.

Farmers Have Committee.

Claiming township assessments are too high, a committee composed of George Holl, C. O. Onsgard and Marcus Kollege will appear.

In the table shown, the first column of figures shows the actual taxes paid by the district under the assessment schedule adopted by state and county board. The second column shows what the taxes would have been had the report of Supervisor Taylor been adopted. The third column shows the districts which claimed lower taxes through the accepting of the local assessor's figures and the fourth shows the districts where taxes were increased.

Marion.—Failure of her son to return home after his discharge from the army, led to the death of Mrs. S. W. Maynard.

Menasha.—Ice, driven by a high wind, has wrecked the bath house at Brighton beach and damaged many cottages near by.

J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS

The Pricemograph

From time to time we read that the seismograph in some observatory has recorded earthquake tremors produced thousands of miles away. The magnitude and distance of shock are faithfully registered.

The modern store furnishes an interesting parallel in its prompt reflection of market conditions at home or abroad. During the period of falling prices this sensitiveness was so keen and the response so instantaneous, that the well organized store may be said to have possessed a PRICEMOGRAPH.

The scientific management of business today, familiar as it is, is something of a marvel in the way it is able to transmit advantages to the public the moment they appear.

Will Sign Contract

Under the agreement system adopted by the Janesville stock breeders' association five shares, the Guernsey association five, Fama Bureau five, Poland China association five, Dursey Jersey association 10, Shorthorn association 10 and the Holstein association 15.

The contract between the pavilion committee and the Janesville fair association gives full control of the building except during fair time to the breeders and farmers. The fair board is to maintain and insure the building and be responsible for its upkeep. Charges are to be established for individual sale so that no one breeder obtains an advantage over a group of men desiring to sell.

The campaign for pledges will begin May 1 and the building be commenced as soon thereafter as feasible. Contract for the building estimated to cost $8,000, will be closed within the next week by J. A. Craig and E. H. Hanson, the committee.

Site Is Selected

Wednesday the committee representing the farmers met with the fair officials and selected the site. The pavilion will be built so that the covered pens can be used for housing the stock and then taken to the pavilion ring through a covered runway.

While the pavilion costs are low as compared to those in other counties, breeders who have inspected the buildings in Fond du Lac, Elkhorn and Waukesha declare the Janesville structure will be superior to any stock pavilion in Wisconsin for demonstration and sales purposes. J. A. Craig was chairman and C. E. Culver, secretary during the meeting Tuesday. John D. Little was elected to the committee to represent the new Poland-China association.

CITY PREPARES FOR CLEAN-UP DRIVE

Next Week Set for Getting Rid of Rubbish—All Asked to Help.

Jamesville's annual spring clean-up will be observed all next week with every citizen asked to join in making the city a brighter and better place in which to live.

In connection with clean-up, the industrial commission has issued the following bulletin to citizens: "Your home needs a new dress, minus blotches made by dirt, filth and rubbish. A stranger judges a town by its looks.

"You will find this rubbish anywhere, everywhere, in streets, alleys, yards, fences and building corners, in basements, attics, closets, porches, sheds and barns.

A clean town means greater safety, better health, increased happiness and satisfaction.

"Kipling wrote: 'It's the everlasting team work of every blooming soul that wins the day.' All should cooperate.

"The householder, the shop keeper, the factory manager and all other owners and occupants of property must lead by example. Women's clubs, commercial clubs and other civic bodies should take an active part in cleaning up and beautifying the city.

"Boy Scouts and school children can be organized as clean-up squads for parks and school grounds and buildings.

"Firemen and local health officers should see that this clean-up is done thoroughly, and should also inspect school buildings and other public buildings for safety and cleanliness.

"When you have the town is clean, keep it so. One clean-up a year only may prove as valuable as one annual bath.

Watch Fire Hazards which need your attention, such as cleaning old, dry, moss covered chimneys, replacing broken and missing siding and closing up other needless wall openings where sparks might enter, rusty smokepipes and defective electric wiring.

"Springs in the painting season, burn off oily waste and rags and prevent spontaneous ignition.

"Whitewash on interior wood-work is a fire retardant.

"Do not burn rubbish near buildings on a windy day and see that the fire is out before you retire. Watch children playing around bonfires; clothes ignite readily and death or bad burns may result.

"Make your town the cleanest of the state."

It isn't safe to bet on anything—especially a sure thing.

COUPLE, MARRIED HERE 50 YEARS AGO, CELEBRATES

An epoch in the married life of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Guernsey, than a century ago, was celebrated Friday at Spokane, Wash., where they now live, and where they will observe their golden wedding anniversary. They are well known in Jamesville by older residents.

Miss Ida Sparling, Jamesville, was married to O. E. Guernsey, then a banker of Dubuque, Ia., at the All Souls' church by Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, 50 years ago, Friday. It was quick, performed as the Sunday evangelist service at the church was completed. The editor of the Gazette at that time had apparently tired of the brilliant and cumbersome occasions and complimented them. The account from the Gazette follows:

"At the close of the sermon of the Rev. Jenkin L. Jones, at All Souls' church last evening, an interesting ceremony was performed which was given in the regular order of services. O. E. Guernsey and Miss Ida Sparling occupied one of the front seats during the evening services and as the words of the benediction died away they stepped toward the altar and submitted to the marriage ritual.

"Without any support from bridesmaids or groomsmen, they stood before the crowd of interested onlookers, answered the questions of the minister and promised to be faithful to one another during life. There was none of the glare of parade or a 'fashionable' wedding nor ostentatious display of gorgeous apparel. It was their choice 'old' and they should be quiet conducted, without the usual attributes which make our modern weddings such cumbersome transactions and their guest taste is worthy of commendation.

"Mr. Guernsey is a young man of good prospects, a resident of Dubuque, where he holds an excellent position in a banking house. The bride and groom will remain in this city for a few days and then proceed to Dubuque where a comfortable and pleasant home awaits their quiet life. They have taken the right start in life. A happy future is before them."

ORFORDVILLE

SANATORIUM FIGHT SET FOR FRIDAY

Public Hearing Ordered. After Hour of Haggling by Supervisors.

Fighting shy of any resolution that would require a vote, the Rock county board of supervisors agreed Wednesday to hold a public hearing on the tubercular sanatorium question, Friday, starting at 1 p. m. For nearly an hour the board haggled over the wording of a resolution to make the sanatorium a special order of business for Friday but finally agreed to hear information and facts—but no arguments one way or another.

The first resolution was proposed by E. D. McGowan, former chairman, and George Drafa, center townships.

It was argued that the supervisors at a public meeting had voted to lay the sanatorium question over until next November until the new committee had opportunity of determining whether adjoining counties will join for a tri-county hospital.

McGowan favors delay. "The board has already passed on the question," declared Supervisor McGowan. "My first objection is the cost to the county which the fact that we would have to accept patients from all parts of the state."

And in the second breath Supervisor McGowan declared he would favor or at least consent to building a tri-county sanatorium with three townships sharing rights to the hospital.

"When money are to be spent," he asked, "it's the people's and taxes are to be high now."

He declared Simon Smith, who replied to Supervisor McGowan, "The old committee motion was pushed through by the former chairman."

Through this board "dilly-dallying" around and getting nowhere. We have spent more than $5,000 in committee work. Let's have a showdown whether we ever are going to have a sanatorium or not."

No Action Expected. After the working of the resolution was straightened out the vote was taken for the public hearing and it passed with only Supervisors Drafa and W. J. Jones, Janesville, voting "no."

It is doubtful if the board will take a vote on the sanatorium issue for that is the popular trend of the supervisors to lay the sanatorium question slide until the November session and a report is made whether Rock county can combine with the other counties.

Down to the Grid. Following the election of W. W. Dalton, Clinton, for 12 years a member of the Rock county board and for two years vice chairman, and C. O. Ganss, Plymouth, vice chairman, the supervisors on Tuesday afternoon settled down for the grid to transact county business.

Meeting of Chairman Dalton meets with the board of supervisors for the purpose of the office goes to the village district. This nomination of Supervisor Dalton was made by Simon Smith, Beloit, a member since 1917.

Change Meeting Place. On motion of Supervisor M. P. Richardson, Janesville, the board accepted a resolution to hold the meetings in the circuit court room instead of the county court room. Increased board membership and outside attendance required more room. Agreement was made between Judge George Griesbach and the county board to use the circuit court room.

Two new men were seated by the board. Gorman Mahlum will sit during the April session in the place of C. E. Hanson, Newark, who is under quarantine. F. R. Lowry, named to succeed A. C. Gardner, Footville, who resigned.

Special Order Friday. It is expected that the supervisors will make a special order of business for Friday, instead of April 18. No mention of the sanatorium question was made at the opening session. Committee members interested in the hospital plans agreed Friday as the logical day for consideration of the growing demand for the sanatorium.

Chairman Dalton announced the following committees: Tax certificates and illegal taxes—O. E. Hall, Peter Anderson, J. O. Anstett.

District attorney's report and license—J. A. Finch, George Campbell, Robert Bruhn.

Application for relief of blind and insane—Robert Snyder, George W. Doty, A. J. Walker.

Finance—Simon Smith, J. A. Denning, W. L. Crandall.

Report county school committee on common schools, educational matter and report of county superintendent of schools—Joseph Ross, Dan Drew, C. O. Ganss.

County state roads and bridges and report of highway commissioner—H. B. Mosley, George Woodruff, D. A. McGowan.

Public property and buildings—M. L. Trevelyan, J. A. Paul, W. E. Perrigo, M. P. Richardson.

Tuberculosis and feeble-minded—George Campbell, John Crist, George Drafa.

Accounts of receiving and disbursing officers—W. Doty, Simon Smith, John C. Wisom.

General claims—John Tullar, B. P. Eldred, S. C. Hanson.

Education, one at large, four from each assembly district—Richardson, Gorman, Trevelyan, J. A. Paul, J. C. Wisom, C. M. Smith, F. W. Lowry; second district, C. W.

"Hung" Jury Is Expected in Fels Case

Indications of a jury disagreement loomed, Wednesday afternoon, when at 2:30 the 12 jurors were still deliberating in the municipal court room having been out more than three hours. Although testimony of Walter Peters, former policeman, was strong, it appeared that Fels had produced just enough alibi testimony to cause a doubt in the minds of some of the jurors.

Those serving on the jury are: J. R. Lamb, Alfred Schoof, O. E. Smith, W. T. Scofield, Fred Blakeley, Joseph Dennison, Jr., Maurice Weirich, W. W. Lyzer, Edward Amerpohl, Edward Paul, W. J. Baker and William O'Connell.

Pseudo Nerve Uncovered. One of the suspicions of the trial which occupied more than an hour in the morning was the discovery that the real name of Peter Larson, youth who is alleged to have bought the liquor from Fels, is Conrad Buehler.

"Do you know a fellow by the name of Conrad Buehler?" E. H. Ryan, defendant's attorney, asked of "Larson."

"Yes," he answered. "How long have you known him?" "Ever since I can remember," he replied, hesitating.

"Have you talked this case over with him?" "No," was the stumbling reply, for "Larson" didn't want the jury to think he was talking to himself.

The discovery was made later that Larson and Buehler were one and the same person, when he admitted finally.

Plot of "Wet" Evidence. Prosecutor Buehler and Chief Charles Newman testified for the state while Fels and his landlady, Clara Quigley, were witnesses for the defense. Dist. Atty. S. G. Dunlap, testified.

Fels was indicted for drinking through the window of Fels' cafe on the night of Nov. 15, he saw "Larson" buy a pint of moonshine from Fels. The evidence was produced in court. Fels swore he was not in the cafe that night. The jury wanted to go to the cafe to see how high the window is but this was disallowed as testimony had been completed before the request was made.

Landslide in Stone Quarry. A landslide in the stone quarry along the railroad section highway sometime Tuesday night caused considerable work Wednesday for county highway trucks, but did no damage as no one was near when the cave-in occurred. More than 60 loads of earth and stones were hauled away Wednesday, under direction of County Highway Commissioner Charles E. Moore.

LOANI BAND HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING. The Loani Band Thursday night at the Congregational church, heard an informal talk on the early history of Northland college at Ashland and its program of Americanization in the lumber districts by Prof. J. D. Brown, president of the college. A thank offering fund of $70 to help in the work of the college was taken. Mrs. W. H. Skilling sang a group of songs and Miss Dolly Strang led in prayer.

MEETINGS POSTPONED. The meetings of the Art League which was scheduled for Friday has been postponed for one week. The meeting of the Philomathian club which was planned for Saturday has been postponed until a future date. Announcement will be made later.

C. C. BOARD VOTES TO HIRE MANAGER

Hope to Get Man for Chamber of Commerce by June 1—Many Applicants.

Steps will be taken during the next few weeks to procure a secretary for the local Chamber of Commerce. It was decided by the board of directors at a meeting in the Chamber rooms Tuesday afternoon. It is planned to close a contract in time to have a new man commence his duties not later than June 1, William F. Mullen, president of the Chamber, stated Wednesday morning.

"We have received many number of applications," he declared. "We will ask some of these men to come to Janesville at their own expense in order to go over the matter with them."

Chamber Is Busy. "The Chamber has been very active recently," said the president. "There are many things being done in the office which the public does not notice. The traffic bureau is exceptionally busy. Inquiries are coming in increasing showing an increase in business here in the retail lines. Housing inquiries are numerous. There are more jobs being offered than there have been for several months with men harder to find."

Tourists Bureau. "The new tourist bureau is active with many inquiries on conditions of roads within the county and state and interstate. About the first of May, the road map of the Highway Department of Wisconsin will be at the Chamber showing conditions of roads in the state which is changed weekly to show corrections in routes and state of roads. A weekly road bulletin will also be on file for the use of the public."

Re Highway Action. A question of rerouting Highway No. 20, running west of Janesville through Green county, is not a matter decided at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber is in the process of securing a meeting of the Chamber Wednesday morning. It was thought the Chamber had better remain neutral on the matter.

Auto tour for camp large enough and attractive enough to draw thousands who will visit Janesville during the summer of 1922.
Be every energy to finish the high school building so it may be used before the end of 1922. With the completion, the problem of a community center will be solved.
Janesville needs and should have ample hotel facilities to care for the public. That will be especially true when the high school is completed and the auditorium is available for the largest conventions.
Finish the paving of Janesville streets as soon as they can be the necessary repairs.
Judgments in taxation as to not to place a heavy burden on the people.
Give city park. There is now available $10,000 for this purpose and it should not be used for any other. Finish the city and school plant.
Memorial building for World War soldiers, the living and the dead—to be also an historical building.

ONE SUPREME COURT DECISION

The decision of the supreme court of Wisconsin in the case of Hans Rodd is its own most effective comment. The two points at issue have been settled. One is that the governor has no right under the law or in equity to interfere with the courts in sentence for contempt in civil cases.
The Gazette gave an impartial and complete review of the case from its inception in the issue of Tuesday and the events leading up to the pardon of Christ, the refusal of the sheriff of Oneida county to obey the governor and his subsequent removal for this disobedience. That constitutes the second point in the decision—the restoration of Sheriff Rodd to his office, and the statement of the court that Rodd could do nothing else than obey the order of the judge not to release the prisoner. In this then both the acts of the judge and the sheriff are upheld and given legal sanction by the highest court of the state, and the governor's political move has reacted against him.

It is hard to understand just what place the judge of the court and the governor hold personally in such a decision. But they both come for something akin to a stump speech. Judge Rodd is severely censured for appearing before the bar association in Janesville and discussing his case while three of the justices of the supreme court were present. In this there should be a clear understanding of the matter. Insofar as Judge Rodd was concerned with that episode.
That is due the judge who is not given to unethical actions. Judge Reid was invited by the Rock county bar association to deliver an address before the association at an annual dinner. It was clearly understood that he was to talk of the Rodd and Christ cases as they affected the courts. The whole bar and bench had been aroused as never before by the seeming attack by the executive on the bench and its established rights. Judge Rodd was not informed of the possible presence of the supreme court justices prior to his arrival in Janesville. It was not until after he was in the room where the dinner was to be held that he knew that the justices, Vinje, Rosenberry and Jones were invited guests and had been asked to come with the other three members, Justices Eachus, Doerflinger and Owens. He then spoke of the address he had prepared and in his extemporaneous foreword stated that he was embarrassed by the presence of the justices but had prepared his paper on "Impediments to Justice" and therefore would read it as it was written.

It was a situation for which in no way Judge Rodd was responsible. Members of the supreme court have been in the habit of attending bar banquets in Rock county. Judge Reid of course had one course to pursue different from what he cleaved—that was to say to the members of the association and the guests that he had prepared an address without knowing, as he did, that members of the supreme court were to be present and that as his address might be embarrassing or affect the pending decision, he would thank the Rock county bar association for having invited him, and sat down. However that all seems beside the question and having nothing whatever to do with the principles of law and practice to be settled by the court. It would have been an entirely different matter had Judge Reid been informed that the justices of the supreme court were to be present and had he then prepared the address which he delivered instead of having no knowledge of the guests in advance and no expectation they would be present. It would seem that the state should be fully informed as to the exact situation and why and under what circumstances Judge Reid delivered his address for which he is now censured.

Notwithstanding the praise for Governor Blaine in his conduct—during the interval since the argument was made in the courts, it may be said that he talked quite freely before and that the members of the bar and bench of Wisconsin will not waver in their support of Judge A. H.
Rodd in his defiance of the attempt at executive encroachment on the judiciary of the state and his bold stand for rights established centuries ago in the jurisprudence of a free country. Nor can Mr. Blaine escape the stigma of politics in his attitude.

THE STRUGGLE OF GREECE FOR FREEDOM.

It was a century ago on April 7 when Greece after rebelling from the Turk under the redoubtable Bazaaris gained her freedom and Islam lost her foothold in the Hellenic peninsula. This marked the Turk on the downward road and he has been losing ever since. In spite of the

Burning Water as Fuel

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington.—For 10 months past a small power plant within the enclosure of the Washington baracks, this city, has been operated by burning water in connection with oil. Water, looked upon as the other extreme from fire, and the great factor in putting out fires, is actually being burned under a boiler to produce heat.

Scientists until very lately have declared this to be impossible. However, there is a patent record in the archives in this city showing that Mrs.
Francis Dowdall Shaw secured a patent for a certain kind of burner in 1916, in which oil of practically any kind is combined with common, ordinary water and an intensely hot flame produced at a low cost.

Mrs. Shaw, who is personally in charge of the power plant at the Washington barracks, under contract with the government, has tried out her invention in many ways, and says that her records show a saving of more than 50 per cent over supplying from burning coal, and a 50 per cent saving over the use of fuel oil in the usual way.

To secure the heat desired at the barracks plant about three parts of oil are used to one part of water. Ridiculous as it may sound, if more water were used, the flame would be so hot that the brick foundation under the boiler would melt down. Mrs. Shaw has experimented with greater quantities of water, and found the heat so terrific that ordinary brickwork melts down quickly.

Mrs. Shaw has been engaged in manufacturing bricks and tiles for some time. It was an accident in connection with her work that showed her that water could be combined with oil as a fuel, effecting a considerable saving over the ordinary use of fuel oil or coal. Mrs. Shaw was drying out a kiln, burning kerosene under it. Some of the kerosene cans had been standing and water had accumulated in them. By accident, the whole combination was used and an immensely hotter flame was produced.

"Scientists have declared until lately," says Mrs.
Shaw, "that it is of course impossible to burn water. However, I had done it, and not being a scientist, I kept on experimenting until I found out what was happening. The oxygen and hydrogen gas in water was being burned, and after I had perfected a burner, I patented the thing."

One of Mrs. Shaw's oil and water burners has been operating an 18,000 horse power plant in Texas for some time. This is the only big private plant using the invention thus far.

Mrs. Shaw has used everything in the way of oil from kerosene to the very poorest grades of crude oil, full of dirt and foreign substances. She has yet to record a failure. Naturally, the government is taking a keen interest in this development and is making tests to determine exactly how much of a saving over other fuels can be effected. These tests have not been completed.

One of Mrs. Shaw's oil and water burners has been operating an 18,000 horse power plant in Texas for some time. This is the only big private plant using the invention thus far.

Another advantage in the use of oil instead of coal in any kind of power or heating plant is the absence of any ash. To engineers this means a two-fold saving—first, no labor in feeding the fuel to the boilers or in removing the ashes; second, the whole weight of the fuel is burned up and all of it produces heat which is transformed into power.

Most of the system is simplicity itself, and is easily comprehended by a casual inspection. The pipes leading from the water supply and the oil supply open into an ordinary funnel. The feed of oil and water into this funnel can be watched and easily regulated. Leading from the bottom of the funnel is a single pipe which connects with the burner.

The burner itself is simple. It has somewhat the shape of a silk hat, but with considerably more taper. In the small power plant being operated at the Washington barracks, this top hat affair has a diameter at the bottom of 12 or 15 inches and at the top is about 6 or 8 inches wide. It is about a foot high.

Around the bottom this contrivance is punched full of holes to admit air. No artificial blast of air is required, once the burner is heated up a bit.
The heat seems to separate the water into its constituent gases, and these with the oil produce an intensely hot flame.

So great the burner, a bit of cotton waste soaked in oil is laid in this burner and lighted. Soon the burner is operating automatically.

Perfection of methods of easy control will in time lead to use of the invention in private houses, Mrs. Shaw thinks.

machinations of the Germans and the propaganda attached to the cause of the allies Greece saved one frontier from possible attack by the Central powers by her assistance on the fighting line closest to what remained of the Moslem empire. Since the war Greece has been making an effort from month to month, to save the Christian civilization left within the borders of Turkish influence and to free the peoples who are Greek in religion and customs from further Moslem bondage. Civilized nations of the world will not accept the political exigencies which have dominated the attitude of France and Great Britain in curtailing the Greek territory and giving a new lease of life to the Sultan of Turkey and saving his City of Constantinople. Not a foot of European soil should belong to the Turk. He should have been driven out in 1877 when in the Berlin convention he was saved by Great Britain and Germany because of fear of Russia, following the Russo-Turkish war. That served two purposes, to hold the fruits of victory from Russia and to keep the Russian navy locked up in the Black Sea, preserving Turkey in Europe potential for more war and massacre of Christians. Greece has been the one consistent nation in her antagonism to Turkey and her menacing empire in Europe.

Had Greece been free to act before the Armenians had been practically exterminated, as they have been, and the bolshevik influence had been established in a large part in Asia Minor, the Turk would have been rendered helpless to aggressively battle against his inevitable discom-berment and the final debacle of Moslemism as a force in any part of Europe. America will look with more than mere passing interest on the determination of Greece to defy the allies in holding the frontiers which are hers by right of race and force of arms. To abandon the people she has saved from Turkish rule would be to invite them to massacre and repeated atrocities.

It's a toss-up whether one would prefer to be shot up in Belfast or Chicago.

JUST FOLKS

THE HOME TOWN
It doesn't matter much to be buildings great or small.
The home town, the home town is the best town after all.
The cities of the millions have the sun and stars above.
But they lack the friendly faces of the few you've learned to love.
And with all their pomp or riches and with all their teeming throngs.
The heart of man is rooted in the town where he belongs.

There are places good to visit, there are cities fair to see.
There are haunts of charm and beauty where at times it's good to be.
But the humblest little hamlet sings a melody to some.
And no matter where they travel it is calling them to come.
Though cities rise to greatness and are gay with gaudy days.
There is something in the home town which no other towns possess.

The home town has a treasure which the distance cannot gain.
It is there the heart is kindest, there the gentlest friends remain.
It is there a mystic something seems to permeate the air.
To set the weary wanderer to wishing he were there.
And be it great or humble, it still holds mankind in thrall.
For the home town, the home town is the best
town after all.

Who's Who Today

EMILIO AGUINALDO.

Twenty years ago Emilio Aguinaldo was a man with a price on his head—the leader of the Philippine revolutionists that American troops finally quelled.

Now Aguinaldo is coming to Washington to place before Americans his reasons and the reasons of his people for seeking independence. He will head the all-Philippine mission chosen to come to Washington.

The search for and capture of Aguinaldo 20 years ago has attracted as much attention in these days, as the world war when it broke out.
His arrest brought the collapse of the erstwhile republic. Then he was released.
He gave up fighting and developed an immense plantation, on which he produced hemp, sugar cane, raisins and coconuts. Then he gradually turned to the vegetable oil business. For years until last January he was vice president of the Philippine Refining Co. His children were sent to America as soon as they were old enough to receive college educations. His daughter, Carmen, became a popular student at the University of Illinois.
She is now the wife of Jose P. Melencio, former director of the Philippine press bureau in Washington.

Emilio Jr., the eldest son, is now attending Phillips Andover academy in Massachusetts.
When he was released two decades ago he announced he would remain out of politics. He has kept to his promise. What energies he has devoted to the cause of his people have been along the lines of creating harmony and obtaining greater freedom for the islands.

add at least $20,000 to it. Business is increasing rapidly. "Cleopatra" will be at the

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE WOMEN?

A handsome woman is really getting to be a rare thing. What all the women, everywhere, are in 1922, take on as they come and go.
is what a fellow can honestly call an eye-filler. Seems as though nearly all of 'em have some little defect that spells the picture. And by actual count, I have nothing better to do than sit at the curb and inspect traffic—by actual count, the one drawback, the one obvious blemish that spoils an otherwise pleasant vision is in 95 per cent of our sloppies.
Of course, this is due to neglect of education from the neck down, for the greater part, although vulgarity and bad taste in the selection of clothing contributes definitely to the ruin, too.

The traffic I have studied is made up of all grades and strata of women.
I have seen the overfed monstrosities that won't, can't, or don't walk. Mostly, with gasoline so cheap. So I figure it is a good average of about $5 per cent of all women who might otherwise qualify for the good looking class are ruled out because of accrued physical training.

Let's give credit where credit is due.
The great contributing cause of this physical deterioration is, no matter whether the board of health pronounces corsets a good thing. Corset wearing permits a slabby woman or one growing lank to jolly herself along with the illusion she sees in the mirror. While the use of corsets when corsets will hold one up.
There is a constantly growing minority of girls and young women who are going to worry through life without corsets, at least they're not going to begin wearing abdominal or hip splits until the doctor insists on it—and if they stick to this resolution and take a reasonable amount of exercise daily the doctor won't be likely to get a chance to prescribe any splints or supports. These enlightened young women—enlightened by not only the weight of the corset, but also the weight of the slacker flesh that the corset took upon itself upon the slabby sort—have proved that the beauty of the feminine form is best preserved by avoiding corsets. Have proved it so conclusively that the corset makers are now striving in vain to achieve a technical success.

The slouchy posture which destroys so much beauty among women is a posture of weakness, and along with it goes more or less backache and headache and disturbance of some of the functions of which the quacks and nostrum gentry freely exploit as "female complaint." It is "female" just as much as corset-wearing.

Q. What kind of a road is most often built with federal aid? K. N. C.
A. Of the total area of public roads constructed with federal aid up to Dec. 31, 1921, 42.2 per cent was gravel.
The remaining 57.8 per cent consisted of sandclay, macadam, bituminous macadam, bituminous concrete, cement concrete, reinforced cement concrete, and brick.

Q. What number of cylinders are used in a Ford Model A? J. M.

A. Four cylinder motors are used in racing cars more frequently than engines with greater number of cylinders, because of their reliability and simplicity. Six and eight cylinders have been used in racing cars but not as often as four cylinders.

Q. If I sent several registered letters to a concern and lost the receipts in there any way I can trace them?
V. C. W.

A. The postoffice department says it records it lost and the local postoffice showing the registered number, the name of the sender, and the name of the addressee. If a person would apply within four years after date of mailing he should be able to obtain the registered number of any particular registered letter.

Q. What per cent of the weight of the hog is contained in ham, bacon, and loin of pork? H. A. G.

A. The choice part of the hog amounts to about 34 per cent of the weight of the live animal.

Q. Where can I get a list of the radio stations of the world? J. R.

A. An English edition of the international list of radio stations can be procured from the international bureau of the telegraphic union, Berne, Switzerland.

Q. When was the lightning rod first used? D. V. H.

A. The first lightning rod in the world was set up by Benjamin Franklin in September of 1752.

A Whole Day To Make Soup

Sounds silly, doesn't it?
The honest truth is, a generation ago we'll tell you that it was true, nevertheless.

In those days soup stock was the work horse of the kitchen. It was laboriously prepared. The stock to be properly made, was cooked one day, cooled, skimmed, flavored and served the next day.

In addition to the labor, this meant that the stock was kept constantly at work.

Today the housekeeper, faced by the necessity of preparing a good meal quickly, has turned to the labor-saving vegetable broth, a delicious, clear soup, or a delicate bisque as quickly as she can turn out of her kitchen.

The additional course needed to transform an ordinary meal into a formal dinner in this day and age and without labor by the simple operation of opening a can. There are hundreds of delicious soups to be made from canned foods.
These have been collected in a booklet which the Washington Information Bureau will secure for any of our readers. Simply fill out

Dinner Stories

They were game hunters, and they were trotting out their usual stock of "reminiscences." When each had told his best lie, the only member of the party who had never been to Africa was asked to tell a story.

"Well, I'm afraid I've nothing very exciting to tell you," he piped in a small, thin voice. "I once had a small affair with a lion escaped from a menagerie. He bounded on me as he got clear of his exposure—and, well, of course, I wasn't armed."

"What on earth did you do?" cho-roused the others.

"Well," retorted the little man, "I just seized his lower jaw with my right hand and his upper jaw with my left hand, and held his mouth open till he starved."

"The Japan of Lafadio Hearn and Loti is no more," said Hamilton Karney, the author-traveler, at a Washington dinner party. "Labor troubles, you know."

"You have heard of the Japanese rickshaw runners? These men trot between the shafts of a rickshaw at the rate of five and six miles an hour.
I mean to say they used to trot at that rate. Since they've been unionized it's hard to get them out of a walk."

"Once, having forgotten my valise, I offered a Tokio rickshaw man a double fare if he'd hurry back to the hotel for it. Well, as he galloped down the road his fellow workers stared after him in amazement, and one of them yelled:

SUPERVISORS TAKE UP SHERIFF'S CASE

Want to Know All About His Firing Roy Worthington.

A thorough investigation was ordered by the county board for a report at the present meeting of the board on the case of Sheriff Roy Worthington, who was fired by the board on Monday.

Whipple and Roy Worthington, appointed county highway patrolman. The probe into the affair was placed in charge of the highway committee, composed of H. B. Mosely, Beloit township, George Woodruff, Janesville, D. A. McCarthy, Porter and Highway Commissioner Charles B. Moore.

Whose The Boss? "We want to know who has jurisdiction in this matter, whether the sheriff can fire a man appointed to be under the direction of the committee," stated Mr. Moore.

This patrolman was fired by the county board by the county and bonded by the county," declared Supervisor Mosely. "It was subject to the orders of the county. I understood he was to assist in the sheriff's work."

"If this patrolman has done only his duty, he should be upheld," declared Supervisor John A. Paul, Milton. "It is the duty of the county to make arrests and investigations where he finds violations."

"Make the sheriff come in and explain about those prisoners escaping. What have we got a board house jail or a parole agency?" remarked one supervisor.

Sheriff's Legal Rights District Attorney S. G. Dunwidlo when called upon gave an opinion that the sheriff was well within his rights to revoke the appointment—whether the county board liked it or not. "The sheriff is the only person who has appointive powers in the county. It is entirely up to him and the board is powerless no matter the merit in the case," stated the district attorney.

There were expressions of dissatisfaction, among many of the supervisors during the recess, at the manner in which affairs in the jail have been conducted during the last year. Several proposed to make the investigation general and call in the court judges for opinions.

Big League Baseball Starts--Rifles Second in National

CHILLY BLASTS DO NOT MAR BIG DAY; OUTLOOK UNUSUAL

Chicago—Chilly blasts will make the warming-up process difficult and will serve to cool the hot enthusiasm as the new major league baseball season opens Wednesday in the western cities of the big circuit. Everything seemed auspicious for the grand entry of another season except the weather and there were hopes that by game time the clouds might pass over and the schedules could be started without any postponements. The Chicago Americans will start the season here with the St. Louis Browns as their opponents. The Urban boys—Faber for the White Sox and Shocker for the Browns—have been selected as the opposing pitchers. Faber, premier pitcher of the circuit, last season, had Shocker as a close contender for the honor of being leading twirler. Schalk will catch for the Sox and Seaverd for St. Louis.

Landis on Hand
K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, will watch the season get under way from a seat in the stands at Comiskey park. The other American league game of the western end, will be played at Cleveland with Detroit as the visiting team. The Tigers will probably start off without a pitcher, as they have who suffered an injury, in an exhibition game. He expects to get back in condition before making an appearance on the diamond. Manager Spawyer's battery selections for the opening have been announced as Coveleskie and Nunnemaker while Detroit will probably use Oldham and Easler.

Cubs at Cincinnati
The National league schedule for the end of the circuit brings together Chicago and Cincinnati at the latter's home grounds and Pittsburgh and St. Louis in the Cardinals park. Manager Killam is expected to make a strong bid for victory by sending Grover C. Alexander against the Reds at Cincinnati. Charlie Hartnett, a recent catcher who works in the practice games has been praised highly, will receive. In the Reds' box, will be according to present indications, Eppa Rixey and Ivy Winder. There was some uncertainty at St. Louis regarding battery selections. Either Shorrel at Kaines will appear on the mound for the Cardinals. Clemons will do the catching, the mound assignment of the Pirates may go to either Cooper, Adams or Slazner with Gooch on the receiving end.

NOT SO WITH GOLF
Chicago—When the golf army American baseball rosters marched into the grandstands Wednesday for the opening of the season, not only to cheer the home teams, but to confuse the visitors, a philosophizing golfer delivered himself of the following soliloquy:
"It may seem strange to the followers of the sport, but golf seems to be about the only outdoor sport, in which there are no rosters, either to applaud the leading player or to boo his less successful opponent. In a golfers of thousands, not one golfer expresses his longing for the supremacy of his favorite player, or shows any outward expression of delight when his champion's opponent is making poor shots."

HICKEY IS OPTIMISTIC
Chicago—The American Association is looking forward to one of the best seasons in its history. Thomas T. Hickey, president of the league, said Wednesday at the opening of the season. "Our circuit enjoyed good seasons in 1920-1921, the financial results and the interesting races being

Why the $10.90 USCO is better than just a $10.00 tire

ON November 10, 1921, the 30 x 3 1/2 "USCO" was marked to sell for $10.90.

This odd and closely figured price was the lowest quotation ever made on any tire of known standards.

A genuine pioneering step by the makers of U. S. Tires.

Now comes a lot of different $10.90 tires being rushed into the market. "Special" tires. "New" treads.

Unfamiliar to look at—with perhaps an atmosphere of having been made to meet the price.

But the "USCO" still occupies a place by itself. A good old standby on millions of cars for years. Better than it ever was.

Still putting the emphasis on honest quality, even if it does sell for only ten dollars and ninety cents.

The $10.90 tire with the record of a proven product.

The tire that people still buy for the dignity of its quality regardless of the low amount they pay.

JUNIOR H. S. IS PLAN FOR 1922-3

Holt Points Out Need of New Division from 7th to Freshman Year.

As the new high school nears completion and indications point to its being occupied in September, school commissioners and others are becoming more and more interested in the matter of a Junior high school and how the present classes will be divided.

Although plans of Supt. F. O. Holt and the school board are still indefinite, some theories are being worked out by Mr. Holt, who explained them at a meeting of the board of education, Monday night. According to present plans, there will be three separate groups in the public schools. All grades through the sixth will continue as present. The seventh, eighth and ninth grades, the ninth being the freshman high school year, will be the Junior high school, and will occupy the new building together with the senior high school—sophomores, juniors and seniors.

The eighth year division is unnatural and does not conform at all with the mental and physical growth of the child, Mr. Holt stated. "A boy in the seventh grade is in early adolescence and needs contact with teachers of his own sex," he continued. "He is usually unruly in the present system, because he does not have what is best suited for him. He needs contact with older people and more different types of people. Being in the Junior high school, where he will see and be with older pupils a great deal, will correct this mistake."

The curriculum and the teachers will be in a group dominated somewhat by older boys and girls those in the senior high, and yet the Junior high must have an entity of its own. It must have loyalty just as the entire high school now has loyalty. Teachers will be hired to teach one or two subjects, as they now are in the senior high, and will be able to secure more training in these. This will have a beneficial effect on the pupils and on the quality of scholarship of the school.

"We must expect to pay more to teachers," said Mr. Holt. "And we must raise the standard of their requirements. My present plan would be to take nearly all of the seventh and eighth grade teachers and have them teach in the Junior high school, for their years of study of children has brought about an understanding of boys and girls of that age. We must lay more stress on the younger children, and raise the rank of their scholarship as well as that of older pupils."

The elementary subjects should be well learned by the time the sixth grade is completed. These can be reviewed somewhat in the first year of the Junior high school, while new subjects are introduced. The Junior high school period is one of exploration in an attempt to show the child what he wants to take when he becomes a sophomore. Too many boys and girls nowadays finish high school wishing they had taken some other course. The Junior high school is to do away with a great deal of this.

Generalized science, mathematics, perhaps one foreign language, will be taught in these three years while special stress will be laid on the shop work and home economics. "Then we hope also to introduce directed, not supervised study, by having 50-minute periods. Too many children come home from higher schools now and say it is hard for them because they never learned to study while they were here. Directed study, when done properly, will eliminate this. Supervised study too, often makes the children dependent on the teacher."

Plans as to what is to be done with the present high school structure have not yet been made. The plans of Mr. Holt and the board for a Junior high school being still in an embryonic stage.

ENGLISH AS SHE IS SPOKE BY FLAPPER AT NORTHWESTERN

Evenston.—If old Nosh Webster were to parade across Northwestern campus here or attend a few of the varsity dances he'd have plenty of material for a new unabridged dictionary.

Flappers add the name of the new jargon which is rapidly supplanting the English of Noah's time. Flappers, plus jazz, plus prohibition, minus English equals flapperisms.

Here are a few samples:
HOLAHOLY—A man who objects to necking.
HOLAHOLY—A girl who objects to necking.

NECKING—Cheek to cheek dancing.

MAD MONEY—Money that a girl carries in case she breaks with her sweetheart and has to go home alone.

SQUIRREL—To hide, for example a girl squirrels her mad money in her stocking.

DUMBODOR—A stupid girl.

FUG A DOPPER—A pavior hound. A young man who never takes a girl out.

PRINCESS MARY—Any girl about to be married.

GOOP—A fellow, a chump, a fish or a fool.

GOOFY—To be in love with—"I'm goofy about Bill."

WALLIE—A goof with patent leather hair.

DUMB BELL (obsolete)—A person with more looks than brains.

JAMMED (post prohibition)—Peculiar, soured, stewed, potted.

LUPD—A gaudy boy or girl.

MONOG—A person of either sex who is goofy about only one person at a time.

THE CAT'S ANKLE—Anything that's all right.

PIES KNUCKLE—Same as cat's ankle.

Curiously enough one of the first issues made by Charles Evans Hughes in his presidential campaign of 1916 was on the alleged indifference of the Wilson administration to the civil service in making certain appointments. Party platforms of both sides have endorsed the civil service idea for many years.

President Harding, however, believes that the incident will be a tonic to the whole government service, that it will stimulate efficiency and show government employees that they cannot expect to be protected from removal if their work is unsatisfactory. Already there has been precipitated a discussion as to how far the civil service rules should cover positions of importance in the government.

Put Republicans on Guard.

The tendency for years has been to enlarge the scope of the civil service system so that a permanent force of workers might be maintained. This has been advocated on the ground that in changing administrations there is much loss of time and money because new chiefs and administrative officers have to be trained. It had been hoped that the civil service some day might encompass even the diplomatic service but the attitude of the Harding administration is that greater efficiency is possible by a constantly changing personnel than by a permanent group of administrative officials. Time alone can tell which is the better and the difficulty is that there is no board or commission absolutely divorced from party politics which can interpret the word "efficiency."

NEWBERRY SCANDAL GIVES MICHIGAN DEMOCRATS HOPE IN SENATE RACE

Newberryism is to be the big issue at the Republican senatorial primaries in Michigan this summer, and if Sen. Townsend is nominated to succeed himself it will doubtless be the big issue at the November election. Townsend stands for Newberry. He will be opposed at the primaries by Congressman Patrick H. Kelley, who condemns the methods which Newberry was elected to the senate. Kelley's leading backers are former Gov. Osborn and Edsel Ford. The Democrats are urging Mayor Couzens of Detroit to enter the race as their nominee.
